

PRODUCT REVIEW - Cucina Fresca Mac & Cheese

Check out the entire line of Cucina Fresca products at your local South Sound grocer!

By: Sarah Beyersdorf, Publisher

My family and I had the awesome benefit of receiving a sample of the Cucina Fresca's Gourmet Smoked Gruyere Mac and Cheese to try out and review for dinner last week - it was unreal! My son keeps asking me to have the "yummiest mac and cheese again, please?" I have visited the store but had missed the message that one of our own personal favorites had made their line of goods available at most major grocers in our area!

Cucina Fresca Gourmet Foods has been making handcrafted pastas in Seattle's historic Pike Place Market for more than 30 years. Since it's humble beginnings, this small mom-and-pop shop has moved twice to meet community demand. Their product line is inspired by fresh, high quality, locally sourced ingredients that are made in small batches to create superior taste.

Cucina Fresca's line of Gourmet Foods include The Gourmet Mac and Cheese which comes in 4 flavors (sharp cheddar, tangy gorgonzola, creamy fontina and the smoked gruyere), The "Lazy" Lasagna which comes in 2 yummy options (roasted butternut squash with alfredo and spinach and cheese with marinara sauce) and 8 different kinds of fresh sauces (marinara, pomodoro, tomato vodka, puttanesca, alfredo, basil cream and pesto) and pastas including 7 different kinds of raviolis and 2 kinds of penne, 1 being GLUTEN FREE.

This quick, high quality and locally made option for dinner will now be a go-to item in my house. Let us know if you try it and what you think of it too.

Check out this link for locations that carry the Cucina Fresca products near you - <http://cucinafresca.com/where-to-buy>